

---

University of Pennsylvania
Institute for Environmental Studies

Presents

Kate Atkins, Greg Kelder

Master of Environmental Studies Students, University of Pennsylvania

Anarma Sharkhuu

Earth and Environmental Science Ph.D. Student, University of Pennsylvania

Environmental Leadership in the Antarctic: Lessons Learned on the Southern-Most Continent

During UPENN's winter break, three students spent a week trekking on the Antarctic Peninsula with Wharton's (Leadership) Venture Program. Invited along on the trip by (Wharton's Initiative for Global Environmental Leadership) IGEL, Kate Atkins, Greg Kelder and Anarmaa Sharkhuu acted as both participants and environmental fellows. As they camped, hiked and overcame obstacles with their teammates, they also lectured on their areas of expertise at a research base, and served as environmental resources for the Wharton MBA students. Come see their breathtaking photos and hear about their amazing experiences camping and trekking in Antarctica.

Co-Sponsor: Initiative for Global Environmental Leadership (IGEL)

Date: April 1, 2009

Time: NOON - 1:30 pm

Place: Carolyn Hoff Lynch Auditorium

On the Penn campus: Chemistry Building
34 & Spruce Sts. (enter on 34 St)

NO REGISTRATION REQUIRED

Direct questions to: 215-573-3164

ies\_penn@sas.upenn.edu

<http://www.sas.upenn.edu/earth/ies>

NO FOOD OR DRINK PERMITTED IN THE AUDITORIUM

---