Toward Sustainability at Richard Stockton College

As an active participant in the Stockton College Sustainability Initiative, the project that launched Stockton College as New Jersey's Green College, Dr. Chirenje will discuss the College's green initiatives. These initiatives include the curriculum, campus operations, energy efficiency, campus life and others. Specifically, his discussion will focus on the 400-well Geothermal System, Aquifer-Thermal-Energy Storage (ATES) system, Solar-Heat and Power Initiatives, as well as the Sustainability curriculum and Living Learning Communities.
