

GEOBIOLOGY SYMPOSIUM XVIII

Paleontology - Paleobiology - Geobiology

CANCELLED due to SNOW STORM

~~Friday, February 26, 2010~~
358 Hayden Hall, University of Pennsylvania

- 10:00 Spencer G. LUCAS, New Mexico Museum of Natural History, Albuquerque, NM
Twenty-Five Years plus of Research on Impacts and Mass Extinctions
- 10:30 Peter D. WILF, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, PA
Leaf Identification Automated Using a Computational Model of the Primate Vision System: Preliminary Results
- 11:00 John NELSON, Illinois State Geological Survey, Urbana, IL
An Autochthonous Early Pennsylvanian Fossil Forest from New Mexico
Preserved in Gypsum
- 11:30 Emily GREENFEST-ALLEN, University of Pennsylvania, Eileen D. GROGAN,
Saint Joseph's University, & Richard LUND
A Bonanza of Fish from the Carboniferous: Diversity and Distribution in the Bear Gulch Fauna
- 12:00 Benjamin P. HORTON & Andrew C. KEMP, University of Pennsylvania, PA
The Application of Foraminifera for High Resolution Sea-Level Reconstruction
-
- LUNCH at 12:30 pm
- 2:00 Hermann W. PFEFFERKORN, University of Pennsylvania, PA
A Forest Pompeii in the Lower Permian of Inner Mongolia, China:
Landscape, Paleocology, and Paleo-Biogeography
- 2:30 Emma SCHACHNER, University of Pennsylvania, PA
Evolution of the Dinosauromorph Respiratory System:
Evidence from the Axial Skeleton
-
- COFFEE BREAK at 3:00 pm
- 3:30 Andrew McDONALD, University of Pennsylvania, PA
An Explosion of New Basal Iguanodonts (Dinosauria) from the Western Interior
- 4:00 Rodrigo PELLEGRINI, New Jersey State Museum, Trenton, NJ
Beeswax as a Remedial Treatment for Pyrite Disease