U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

New Directions in Environmental Protection in the Bush Administration

. . National Security Impacts on the Environment . .

On June 26, 2001, EPA Administrator Christie Whitman announced the appointment of Donald S. Welsh as Region III Administrator. She said, "EPA is fortunate to have the leadership of such an experienced environmental professional. He brings a wealth of knowledge about Agency programs and relationships with the states which will be critical in developing more progressive approaches to protecting the environment and public health." Mr. Welsh oversees federal environmental programs in Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Mr. Welsh will discuss new directions in Environmental Protection in the Bush Administration and national security impacts on environmental protection efforts.
