How do international music festivals produce experiences of the sacred in heterodox audiences? In this presentation Prof. Deborah Kapchan examines one incarnation of the “festive sacred” as it is performed at the Fes Festival of World Sacred Music, analyzing the role of sacred tourism and “the promise of sonic translation.”

Reception to follow.