Once upon a time:
TIME!

An evening of Liberian Food and Storytelling

Co-Sponsored by the African Studies Center, the Program in Folklore and Folklife, and the Center for Community Partnerships.

Thursday, April 6th
5:30 PM
Kelly Writer’s House
3805 Locust Walk

Come and meet elders from one of Philadelphia’s largest African immigrant communities. Students of Folklore 321, Exploring Memory and Tradition in West Philadelphia Communities, have worked with the Agape African Senior Center to prepare a community storytelling event and food fest to please the palate and warm the heart.

RSVP Required to wh@writing.upenn.edu

Food will be catered by Evamos African Restaurant.
